

7522847466.txt

As a collective, human's have never been more united than in the internet. Sure there are a-lot of differing opinions and morals that clash, but we benefit from sharing our thoughts freely on the internet. Please listen to your citizens, don't give in to a pro-business approach. We want to have a place where people, no matter their income, can navigate and use the internet freely.