

7522903472.txt

I believe that broadband speeds should be considered 10Mbps. In this day and age, it is unacceptable to for anyone to have less than that. Everyone computer user today has watched YouTube, Netflix, or have done some high-bandwidth requirement tasks. Please redefine broadband as 10Mbps.