

7522905152.txt

Net neutrality needs to be kept in place.

The companies are already acting like they're monopolies and slowing down innovation, and business. They're raising prices and letting people know they're the only game in town.